THE nearest approach to Paradise is an attractive and comfortably furnished home. To surround himself and family with all that constitutes an attractive, comfortable home is man's duty. To say he cannot, or that he would if he could, is to talk idly. We offer to every one not only the requisites to make home attractive, but the means, also, of procuring them without interfering to any extent with your finances. Our credit system must be tried to be thoroughly appreciated. You cannot, if inexperienced, appreciate as you ought to our system of doing business. To be convinced of the practical, economic results of our installment plan you must try it. It is to people of limited means a blessing. Our stock is a magnitude of the finest and best goods. We can give you everything to make home a paradise. We supply all except the house and lot.

Honest goods—Honestly made—At honest prices—Are the foundation principles of our business. Upon these principles we have built up the enormous trade we now enjoy and extending to every section of the city and all suburban towns. We have never made, and never will permit to be made, any misrepresentation. Customers are told that goods are precisely what they are, and in making a purchase you may figure on the facts and feel satisfied that you are getting just what you pay for and what you expect. We take no credit to ourselves for establishing a reputation for reliability. It is quite as necessary for our advance of trade as the quality of goods we sell. But is a satisfaction to know that it has given a stability to our business that has made the name of the Wheeling Instalment Company a literal household word in three States.

The Bean-Shooter Here. The inexorable law of fashion has retired the horse-frightening kite until next season, and the man-anvying bean shooter promptly takes its place. Obstructions to Navigation.

Yesterday's Pittsburgh Post says: The final hearing of testimony in the case of the complaint of the Pittsburgh Coal Exchange against the bridges across the Ohio river at Steubenville and Bellaire will take place in W. A. Schmidt's office in the Lakeview building Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. A number of pilots have already been heard, but several more are wanted to give their testimony that the bridges in question are serious obstructions to navigation. These two bridges cost the Pittsburgh coal trade over $200,000 every year. Some interesting testimony is expected at the hearing.

Will do the Work Again.

The sub-committee appointed Monday night by the committee on fire department to investigate the manner in which the work on the Atlantic engine house repairs had been done, met at the engine house yesterday afternoon. The members saw at a glance that the complaints were well grounded. Contractor Wilbur Jacobs was present, and after some talk he agreed to do the faulty parts of the work over again to the entire satisfaction of the committee, on which basis the trouble was amicably settled.

In the evening just prior to the meeting of the Council, the committee agreed to let Contractor Jacobs have $100 on account, and recommended such action to Council.

At Clerk Hook's Office.

Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record three deeds of trust and transfers as follows:

July 23, by Jacob Kull, sr., and others to Charles D. Kull, for $2,000, the west half of lot 98, in Centre Wheeling.

October 10, by James A. Hammond and Melosena, his wife, to William C. Murrin, for $300, the south half of lot 6 in square 2 in the Hydingar addition.

September 23, by Benjamin Exley and wife to J. T. Goodwin, for $4,950, lot 233, on the north side of Sixteenth street.

October 9, by John Baird to James Herve, for $180, a piece of ground in Triadelphia district, to be used as a private road.

October 13, by G. R. E. Gilchrist, special commissioner, to P. Bachman, lot 1 in the "Reserve" fronting on Market street north of Twelfth.

S. S. Bloch was appointed administrator of the estate of Mrs. Helen Bloch, deceased, and gave bond in the sum of $20,000, with Henry Baer as surety. Messrs. Marcus Baer, Bernhard Baer, A. O. Maxwell and Bernhard Horkheimer were appointed as appraisers of the estate.

"Natural Gas" Next.

One of the best of farce comedies, "Natural Gas," will be seen at the Opera House Monday evening. Handsome scenery, beautiful costumes, pretty girls and bright music are the characteristics of "Natural Gas," which appeal to the eye and ear, and supply a clever background for the clever acting of Donnelly and Girard and their associates. No managers in the country understand the art of presenting farce comedy in its most attractive form than do Messrs. Donnelly and Girard, and there is always an air of luxury and completeness about their surroundings. The action of the piece is brisk and never flags. "Natural Gas" contains all the elements of a popular success, as has already been demonstrated.

"Myles Fadh" at the Grand.

The Grand contained a good audience last night to see the initial performance of the Irish drama, "Myles Fadh." The play is a good one, a little different from the average run of dramas of this general kind, and all the characters were well taken by the different performers. Some of the situations were very strong. This afternoon there will be a grand matinee for ladies and children, when the Grand will no doubt be crowded. The admission for children to the matinee is only fifteen cents. This evening closes the engagement.

Van And's Jollities.

On Friday and Saturday evening of this week, Van And's Jollities Company will appear at the Grand in the funny musical comedy, "The Electric Spark." This is a good comedy, full of fine music, specialties and dancing. The people are well known, among them being the soubrette, Miss Florence D. Kellogg. They carry a good band and orchestra, and are sure to do a good business.

It is True.

HINTS AT A ROMANCE

IF THE WOMAN FINDS HER HUSBAND

A Letter of Inquiry Received by Chief of Police Delbrugge Yesterday from a Deserted Wife who wants to bring her Recreant Husband to Justice.

Yesterday among the usual daily run of offers of rewards, inquiries for missing persons, notices of criminals wanted and like mail matter which is handed in at police headquarters by Uncle Sam's hirelings, Chief Delbrugge received one letter a little out of the ordinary. It was from the deserted wife of Henry Martin, who suspects that her husband has since deserting her left another woman also, who was driven to suicide.

Nothing of the case is known here. The letter is printed in full below. The story it hints at lacks only the sequel to make a great drama in the hands of a playwright like Joseph Arthur.

PHILADELPHIA, October 12, 1891.

To the Head of Police. In August last I read an account of a man by the name of Henry Martin who married a woman in June at Chestonville or a place similar to that in name, and she shot herself and died. The article stated that he took her out West and then deserted her and she wandered back to Virginia and took her own life. I wrote to the mayor of Wheeling two letters, receiving no reply, so I write to you for information.

I am greatly interested, as my husband has deserted me, and is somewhere in Virginia. He is a traveling man and his name is Henry Martin. He left Philadelphia because the court here made an order upon him, and as I loved him better than all the world and was willing to live with him he ran away before the case came up and left me to starve. I have tried in every manner to locate him, but it has been of no avail. I should have written to you ere this but I have met with a terrible accident which has made me a helpless cripple, and I was not able to sit up. I can give you first class references as to who I am, and as I come from one of the oldest and best known families in the State, you will readily believe it drives me wild when I think he is living and happy and I forsaken, for what I know not. Will you kindly answer this letter and tell me if you have caught that man, and what he looks like? Give me a full description of him, and if it is my husband I will be carried to the train and come on and bring him to justice, for he has broken my heart and blasted my life. Hoping you will pardon me, I am, Most respectfully,

MARY PACKER MARTIN, 621 North Tenth street.

ACCUSED OF STEALING

A Pocketbook With $50 in It—A Fight on Fourteenth Street.

Constable Anderson arrested Jacob Ruff, of Elm Grove, yesterday evening, and took him before Squire Arkle. Ruff is charged with having stolen a pocketbook, containing $50 in cash and some valuable papers, belonging to W. H. Chambers. In default of $1,000 bond, Ruff was committed to jail, to await a hearing on Saturday, October 17, at 2 p. m.

Two men, giving the names of James Vivian and W. H. Pearce, were arrested yesterday at the corner of Fourteenth and Market streets, by Constable Laughlin for fighting, and taken before Squire Arkle. Pearce refused to testify, and after he and his adversary had been fined $5 and costs apiece, asked the squire to make it light on Vivian, in whose case a stay of execution was granted. Pearce evidently considered himself the aggressor.

McKINLEY AT BELLAIRE.

A Thousand Wheeling Men Want to Go and Hear Him.

On Thursday evening, October 22, Major William McKinley, Ohio's next governor and the foremost champion of protection to American industries now alive, will speak at Bellaire. There is every indication that this meeting, at which also other renowned and eloquent orators will speak, will be the greatest gathering ever seen in Bellaire. Everybody everywhere naturally wants to hear McKinley. Wheeling will turn out a good crowd. It is thought at least a thousand people, headed by a brass band, will go over from this city. The B. & O. railroad will run a special train at the low fare of 25 cents for the round trip, returning after the meeting is over. This alone should induce a big crowd to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

No other pills are "just as good" as Dr. A. S. Todd's Liver Pills.

NEARING AN END.

Pittsburgh's Exposition Soon to Close—Last Cheap Excursion via the Pennsylvania Lines.

Pittsburgh's Exposition will close on Saturday, October 17th. The last special cheap excursion via the Pennsylvania Lines to the Iron City will be run on Thursday, October 15th, when round trip tickets, including admission to the Exposition and good returning until Saturday, October 17th, will be sold at special low rates. The hand-bills give full information.

A GOOD SHOW.

We are always advising you to advertise, and to keep on advertising, but that does not cover the ground entirely. Of course, you should make your advertising effective—if an electric light be available, you should not use a "tallow dip" to light the path to your store.

What do we mean by that? Simply that the more conspicuous, the more artistic, the more attractive, the more original you make your advertisements, the more people will see and read them, and the more customers you will have to contribute to your cash-drawer.

Study effects in bold pretty type—good matter may be spoiled by ugly dressing. Seek to catch the eye by a display of good taste in the style and arrangement of your announcement.

Above all, let it be bold enough to be easily read. Don't vex a reader by vexing his or her eyes!
